

Ethical considerations

ELTA Journal reviewing process follows the guidelines of the double peer review and neither the reviewer nor the submission authors are informed of the other. Also, minimum two reviewers review each manuscript. ELTA Journal reviewers have been recruited according to their field of academic specialization, academic credibility, their degree level (Ph.D.) or/ and the track record of their engagement in the ELT or other educational fields.

The following persons have reviewed the articles for the first issue of ELTA Journal:

- Tatjana Glušac, Ph.D., Assistant professor, The University of Novi Sad, Serbia;
- Phil Holland, Ph.D., Chairman, English Department, Anatolia College, Greece;
- Gordana Petričić, Ph.D., Assistant professor, The University of Novi Sad, Serbia;
- David A. Hill, M. Phil., Freelance consultant in English Language & Literature, United Kingdom;
- Biljana Radić Bojanić, Ph.D., Assistant professor, The University of Novi Sad, Serbia;
- Roger House, Director of Studies, Professional English Language Training, Greece.
